

Our expertise and strengths

What sets us apart from other leadership development programmes and social innovation incubators:

- We are market leaders in combining offline and online learning.
- We offer a rare combination of academic rigour, practice, and evidence of application of the methodology.
- We are multi-disciplinary and cross-sectoral in research, theory, and practice to produce new bodies of indigenous knowledge.
- We have deep cross-cultural agility - understanding and experience gained through facilitation of transformational change on every continent of the world.
- We are an African initiative influenced by and open to global learning and practice - a powerful combination of Ubuntu philosophy with Theory U.

Building social change. One leader at a time.

Our bold ambition is to target every African on the continent who wants to contribute to positive transformational change, including:

- Young and emerging social change leaders seeking to create impact beyond self.
- Leaders and organisations committed to cross sector collaboration to bring about transformational change.
- Government and development institutions, and businesses interested in fast-tracking the process of realising the SDGs and Agenda 2063 on the continent.
- Education and learning institutions committed to a social transformation agenda.
